

PaperWare.org

do.py

v3.5

133 line nordic design
custom search syntax.

searches.txt

YouTube	(yt) https://www.youtube.com/results?search_query=michael+jackson
Bing	(bi) http://www.bing.com/search?q=michael+jackson&amp;qs=n&amp;form=QBLH&amp;sp=-1&amp;pq=michael+jackson&amp;sc=8-15
PowerShell Tutorials	(ps) do powershell tutorial yt
Thunderstruck AC/DC	(ac) do thunderstruck yt
YouTube Podcast Search	(pod) do __ podcast yt
Default Search	(oo) do __ bi
My First Custom Parser	(cus) my_custom_parser.py
My First Script	(scr) test.txt
Open In Chrome tab	(chr) chrome.py
Open in Firefox tab	(fox) fox.py

github.com/taext/do

```

Do 3.5 (January 6 2017)

What's New: Debugging parse_search_url()
Next Action: Decide where to list -> str regarding piping import re, sys, importlib def modules():

    file_lines = [line.rstrip() for line in open('searches.txt')] return(file_lines)

def build_command_dict():
    c_dict = {}
    search_file_lines = modules()

    for search_line in search_file_lines:
        search_line = search_line.rstrip()
        m = re.search('\([a-zA-Z0-9]+\)', search_line)
        # parse searches.txt line for command variable: "- cmd -"

        if m:
            do_command = m.group(1) command_name = search_line.split(" ")[0] search_url = search_line.split(" ")[-1]
            # get do command from match above
            # get command name from first part of " - " split
            # get search URL from last part of " - " split

            c_dict[do_command] = (command_name, search_url) # add to result dictionary return(c_dict)

command_dict = build_command_dict() def parse_command_string(do_command_string):

    do_search_terms = do_command_string.split(" ") do_commands = build_command_dict()

    new_search_terms = []
    do_commands_found = []
    for element in do_search_terms: if element in do_commands:
            do_commands_found.append(element)
        else:
            new_search_terms.append(element) result_dict = {}

    result_dict['search_terms'] = new_search_terms result_dict['commands'] = do_commands_found return(result_dict)

def parse_search_url(url_string, search_term):
    url_string = url_string.lstrip() link_match = re.search('http', url_string) do_match = re.search('^do ', url_string) variable_match = re.search('\s_\s', url_string) parser_match = re.search('\.py$', url_string) script_match = re.search('[a-zA-Z]\.txt', url_string)

    # test for search URL
    # test for do command
    # test for variable character __
    # test for custom_parser.py
    # test for script_file.txt

    if script_match:
        result = parse_script(url_string)
        return(result)

    if parser_match:
        custom_parser_name = url_string[:-3] result = use_custom_parser(custom_parser_name, search_term)
        return(result)

    if variable_match:
        padded_search_term = " " + search_term + " " url_string = url_string.replace(" __ ", padded_search_term)

    if link_match:
        m = re.search('([Mm]ichael(?:[Jj]ackson))', url_string)
        if m:
            match_string = m.group(1) separating_char = m.group(2) new_search_term = search_term.replace(' ', separating_char) new_string = url_string.replace(match_string, new_search_term) return(new_string)

    if do_match:
        m = re.search('do (.*?)', url_string) string_without_do = m.group(1)
        # remove 'do ' part of string result = launch(string_without_do)

        return(result[0])

    else:
        print("url_string didn't get categorized by any filter, in parse_search_url(): " + url_string)

```

```

def launch(do_string):
    commands = command_dict elements = parse_command_string(do_string) search_terms = elements['search_terms'] command_terms = elements['commands'] search_string = ""

    for word in search_terms:
        search_string += word + " "

    search_string = search_string.rstrip()

    result_list = []

    if command_terms == []:
        command_terms.append('oo')

    while command_terms:
        try:
            last_command = command_terms.pop(0)    # get first argument command except:
            last_command = 'oo'

        try:
            url = commands[last_command][-1]        # use URL corresponding to last_command from commands dict except:
            print("Bad command?")

        result = parse_search_url(url, search_string) # put search term(s) from do_string result_list.append(result)                  # into search URL from searches.txt

    return(result_list)

def argv_to_string():
    arg_list = sys.argv[1:]

    arg_string = ""
    for arg in arg_list:
        arg_string += arg + " "

    arg_string2 = arg_string.rstrip() return arg_string2

def use_custom_parser(parser_module_name, arg_string):
    custom_parser = importlib.import_module(parser_module_name) result = custom_parser.run(arg_string)

    return(result)

def printify(result_passed):
    for item in result_passed:
        print(item)

def parse_script(filename):
    f = open(filename)
    lines = f.readlines()

    result_list = []
    for line in lines:
        strip_line = line.rstrip()
        do_result = launch(strip_line) result_list.append(do_result[0])

    return(result_list)

def parse_pipe(do_string):
    elements = do_string.split(",") result = ""

    while elements:
        do_string_build = result + elements.pop(0) result = launch(do_string_build)[0]

    return(result)

def go(do_string):
    pipe_match = re.search('\,', do_string)

    if pipe_match:
        result = parse_pipe(do_string)
        return(result)

    else:
        result = launch(do_string)
        return(result)

if __name__ == '__main__':
    arg_string = argv_to_string() result = go(arg_string)

    if isinstance(result, list):
        result = printify(result)
    else:
        print(result)

```